

GAGOSIAN GALLERY

OBSERVER

9 Things to Do in New York's Art World Before April 4

Paul Laster

Joe Bradley, To be titled, (2016). (Photo: Rob McKeever, © Joe Bradley, Courtesy Gagosian Gallery)

SATURDAY, APRIL 2

Opening: “Joe Bradley: Krasdale” at Gagosian Gallery

One of the most talked about artists of the past five years, Joe Bradley has had a meteoric ride through the art world. He first exhibited at Berlin and Los Angeles-based Peres Projects gallery and New York's Canada before he was picked up by Parisian heavy-hitter Almine Rech, Zurich's Eva Presenhuber and Gagosian. The gallery has chosen to remain tight-lipped about what its first solo show with the artist will feature, but we were able to sneak a peak at some massive abstract paintings.

Gagosian Gallery, 980 Madison Avenue, New York, 6-8 p.m.